"We are going to examine the way we see life's changing conditions. Analyzing the way we see things is very revealing and liberating: we see how we can take full responsibility for changing our lives and have the tools needed to do it!"

Bhikkuni Zamba Chozom was born in London in 1948 and is one of the first Western women to take full monastic vows in multiple Buddhist traditions. She began as a nun in Tibetan Vajrayana, and was later ordained within the Korean Son and Chinese Chan lineages. Her background in Buddhist philosophy and practice is extensive and rich, covering a period of 44 years.

Ani has had the extraordinary opportunity to study and practice under some of the most highly realized Vajrayana, Mahayana and Theravadin masters of the last century. She has devoted many years to solitary retreat in several countries in Asia, where she lived for 30 years. For the past 14 years, Ani Zamba has lived in Brazil, teaching, practicing and establishing dharma centers throughout the region.

Ani Zamba has dedicated the past 4 decades to turning the wheel of dharma at the bequest of her teachers. With a refreshing scientific, down to earth and direct style, Ani helps us to unravel the "Mind" and the "Nature of Consciousness," illuminating how to work with daily life situations as a basis for our path to Liberation.
