

Climate Action Rally on Saturday

The Buddhist Climate Action Network (BCAN) has contacted BIBS and in the spirit of interdependence and cooperation, we pass on this call to action.

The Idaho Climate Action Community, along with more than 10 community organizations, will hold the Second Annual Idaho Climate Action Rally next Saturday, October 1 at the Capitol. Last year more than 300 people came out for climate solutions. This is the single largest day for climate advocacy in Idaho, and we need your support!

We will rally at the Idaho State Capitol Building in Boise at 11 a.m. to hear a diverse group of speakers from Boise State University, the Idaho House of Representatives, Idaho Sierra Club, and other community leaders. They will focus on the impacts of climate change in Idaho and the amazing opportunities we have to bring solutions to our communities.

The crowd will then join together to form a human billboard in the shape of a sun and spell out "100% clean energy", with a photographer taking aerial pictures. This exciting action, a first in Idaho, will help to grab the attention of our leaders and demonstrate that we are ready for climate solutions and a clean energy future! A local musician will provide music during the event and booths will be set up in Capitol Park after the rally to answer questions about how you can get involved.

Please join us at the Second Annual Idaho Climate Action Rally to help move Idaho in the right direction. We need everyone – share the event on social media and invite your friends, family and neighbors out to become part of the solution. We can make a difference in Idaho, but we must come together and urge our leaders to act on climate.

GET OUT THE VOTE! Because the stakes are so high, today, we are asking you to do something that 350 Action has never done before: join us in a national push to get out the vote. We need your help calling and texting people in key battleground states that will decide this election.

We are teaming up with folks at NextGen Climate, who have offered their very best calling and texting tools to the movement. This isn't easy by any means. It's important to remember that November 8 is a vital day – but November 9 is just as vital.

Together, our movements got Sec. Clinton to come out against the TPP and Keystone XL, commit to investigate Exxon's climate lies, and pushed her team to adopt the strongest climate platform in Democratic Party history.

Hope to see you on the front lines of climate justice soon!
